Friends of Winship, the community advocacy group of Winship Cancer Institute, is pleased to offer the opportunity to experience the inner workings of Georgia’s first and only cancer center designated by the National Cancer Institute (NCI).

Lunch Bites is a walking tour that will allow you to see an active research laboratory, visit and learn more about the Phase 1 Clinical Trials unit, as well as meet with the Guest and Volunteer services team.

Come see for yourself how Winship Cancer Institute of Emory University is translating research into outstanding patient care.

For more information about joining an existing tour or reserving one for your small group, please contact a member of the Development Office of Winship Cancer Institute:
