University-Wide Events (continued)

11:00 a.m. Classes without Quizzes Goizueta Business School, Room 130

Featuring Professor Reshma Shah, Marketing Professor at the Goizueta Business School, speaking on "Brand You: Creating Your Market Advantage Through Competence, Passion, and Resilience".

Clear positioning for a brand allows it to communicate effectively with its intended target audience. The most important brand that you will encounter is Brand "You". Companies are beginning to rebound from the lows of the current economic crisis. In the process, rather than wait for the future to unfold for them, several of them have reinvented themselves and have re-approached the market in a way that allows them to create the future. You have the ability to do the same for brand "you" by strongly considering three important elements: your core competence, your points of passion and your level of resilience.

Noon Gallery Talk & Tour of the Alice Walker Exhibit Woodruff Library, Schatten Gallery

A Keeping of Records: the Art and Life of Alice Walker is an exhibition drawn from the archive of Alice Walker, a genius of the South whose writing is an enduring part of our national and world literature. Emory University's Manuscript, Archives and Rare Book Library has served as the repository of the Alice Walker archive, a literary treasure, since December 2007. Join the exhibit's curator and the collection's archivist for a gallery talk and tour of this exhibit during its final weekend on campus. If unable to join the tour, visit the Gallery at your leisure. Hours are: M-Th 8:00 am-10:00 pm, F-Sat 8:00 am-8:00 pm, Sun noon-10:00 pm

Open to all • No Charge; registration required, Tour Space is limited • Parking: Fishburne Deck

Contact: Ginger Cain 404.727.3160

1:00 p.m. Classes without Quizzes Harland Cinema, Dobbs University Center

Health Reform: Alive and Kicking or Dead on Arrival?: The debate over health reform is one of the most contentious political issues facing our nation - it has deeply divided the Congress, the electorate and the American people. News coverage has tended to focus on politicians, pundits and the loudest voices at town halls. Ironically, little attention has been given to the perspective of those who know health care best - practitioners of public health, nursing and medicine. Join us during Homecoming Weekend as the new Dean of the Nell Hodgson School of Nursing moderates a panel discussion with some of Emory's own experts on these issues.

Faculty panel featuring:

Moderator: Dr. Linda McCauley, Dean, Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing

Panelists: Dr. David Howard, Associate Professor, Department of Health Policy and Management, Rollins School of Public Health

Dr. Art Kellermann, Associate Dean for Health Policy and Professor of Emergency Medicine, School of Medicine

Dr. Ora Strickland, Professor, Department of Family and Community Nursing, Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing

Saturday, September 26

11:00 a.m.

Classes without Quizzes

Goizueta Business School, Room W100

Featuring Professor Reshma Shah, Marketing Professor at the Goizueta Business School, speaking on "Brand You: Creating Your Market Advantage Through Competence, Passion, and Resilience".

Clear positioning for a brand allows it to communicate effectively with its intended target audience. The most important brand that you will encounter is Brand "You". Companies are beginning to rebound from the lows of the current economic crisis. In the process, rather than wait for the future to unfold for them, several of them have reinvented themselves and have re-approached the market in a way that allows them to create the future. You have the ability to do the same for brand "you" by strongly considering three important elements: your core competence, your points of passion and your level of resilience.

Rollins School of Public Health

Saturday, September 26

1:00 p.m.

Classes without Quizzes

Harland Cinema, Dobbs University Center

Health Reform: Alive and Kicking or Dead on Arrival?: The debate over health reform is one of the most contentious political issues facing our nation - it has deeply divided the Congress, the electorate and the American people. News coverage has tended to focus on politicians, pundits and the loudest voices at town halls. Ironically, little attention has been given to the perspective of those who know health care best - practitioners of public health, nursing and medicine. Join us during Homecoming Weekend as the new Dean of the Nell Hodgson School of Nursing moderates a panel discussion with some of Emory's own experts on these issues.

Faculty panel featuring:

Moderator: Dr. Linda McCauley, Dean, Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing

Panelists: Dr. David Howard, Associate Professor, Department of Health Policy and Management, Rollins School of Public Health

Dr. Art Kellermann, Associate Dean for Health Policy and Professor of Emergency Medicine, School of Medicine

Open to all • No charge; Registration required via website • Parking: Peavine Deck

Health Reform: Alive and Kicking or Dead on Arrival?: The debate over health reform is one of the most contentious political issues facing our nation - it has deeply divided the Congress, the electorate and the American people. News coverage has tended to focus on politicians, pundits and the loudest voices at town halls. Ironically, little attention has been given to the perspective of those who know health care best - practitioners of public health, nursing and medicine. Join us during Homecoming Weekend as the new Dean of the Nell Hodgson School of Nursing moderates a panel discussion with some of Emory's own experts on these issues.

Faculty panel featuring:

Moderator: Dr. Linda McCauley, Dean, Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing

Panelists: Dr. David Howard, Associate Professor, Department of Health Policy and Management, Rollins School of Public Health

Dr. Art Kellermann, Associate Dean for Health Policy and Professor of Emergency Medicine, School of Medicine

Music

Alumni Art Exhibition and Concert, Thurs., Sept. 24, 2009, 5 p.m., Schwartz Center for Performing Arts, Upper Lobby, 1700 N. Decatur Rd., Atlanta, 30322, 404-727-5050, boxoffice@emory.edu, www.arts.emory.edu, free. Featuring the work of Susan Stubbs Robert 670x 69C, with musical performance by Will Ransom, Mary L. Emerson Professor of Piano.

Dance

"...me so much nearer home": Faculty Dance Concert, Fri, Sept. 25 – Sat., Sept. 26, 2009, 8 p.m., Sun., Sept. 27, 2009, 3 p.m., Schwartz Center for Performing Arts, Dance Studio, 1700 N. Decatur Rd., Atlanta, GA 30322, 404-727-5050, boxoffice@emory.edu, www.arts.emory.edu, $5 general admission. Tickets on sale Sept. 11; special pre-sale for Emory faculty, staff, students, and Friend's groups Sept. 9.

Inspired by choreographer Anna Leo's family, this concert presents a sequence of elegant dances that honor the nature of family and community. Blending delicate gesture with physically driving movement, each dance – solo, duet, trio and quartet – is introduced by the reading of a poem. The concert features music composed by Music Department faculty member Steve Everett, and Dance Program composers Kendall Simpson and Klimchak. Poems are by Robert Brown, Fran Castan, Lynne Thompson, and Cecelia Woloch. Dancers will be from the Atlanta professional community and Emory faculty. This concert is sponsored in part by a grant from the Emory University Research Committee.

Visual Arts

"The Lucid Eye: Photographs from the Collection of Arnall Golden Gregory," Aug. 27, 2009 – Sept. 25, 2009, Emory Visual Arts Gallery, 700 Peavine Creek Drive, Atlanta, GA 30322, mcjohn7@emory.edu, www.arts.emory.edu, free.

Opening reception: Thurs., Aug. 27, 5 -7 p.m.

This exhibition of 20th century masterworks inaugurates a year-long series of exhibitions at the Emory Visual Arts Gallery reflecting on the state of the photographic image as art. Featuring works by Zeke Berman, Margaret Bourke-White, Harry Callahan, William Christenberry, Robert Frank, Lee Friedlander, Mario Giacomelli, André Kertész, David Levinthal, Helen Levitt, Danny Lyon, Irving Penn, Toshio Shibata, Paul Strand and others, this show presents key examples of the range and vitality of photographic art as it has evolved over the last century.
